Important AANR Announcements

AANR Membership Dues Will Increase January 1

Your AANR member dues will increase by $6 on all renewals as of January 1. Also, couples will be split into individual memberships after that date.

Individual members and clubs collecting dues that are due for December 2019 under the old rates must be postmarked to the AANR office no later than January 15, 2020.

AANR dues for new and renewing memberships that are effective January 2020 must include the $6 increase, and all notices to clubs and Associate members will reflect that increase.

The increase was approved at the national AANR convention last August. It has been eight years since the last dues increase and the organization needed to make the change to cover rising costs and a budget shortfall.

Visit the AANR membership web site at www.aanr.com/membership for more information or call the AANR office at (800) 879-6833.

Reminder: AANR Bulletins - Paper or Email? (Starting Next Month)

Starting with the January 2020 AANR Bulletin, the national magazine will only be available by email UNLESS you contact the AANR office at 800-879-6833 to tell them you still want a paper copy mailed to you.

The electronic copies can be read it online or downloaded in PDF format for you to save or print it yourself.

Region News

Spanish Language Brochure in the Works for AANR-West

In order to expand our potential membership base, AANR-West is working on translating some of our important brochures and information cards into Spanish. The Latino market has been largely untapped by AANR in the past, yet in our region polls show they represent a significant part of the Gen-X and Millennial population that, unlike their parents, show an interest in nude recreation.

These will be distributed at targeted trade shows we will attend this next year and we also hope many of the clubs will find them useful. Email us at information@aanrwest.org if you want extra copies sent to your club.

AANR-WEST Welcomes Three New Board Members

We left the summer convention with two vacancies on our Board of Directors and the hunt began to find qualified volunteers to serve.

We are happy to announce that Curt Flynn and Rolando Mantilla, both Glen Eden Sun Club members, have been appointed to those open seats.

Curt brings a lifetime of nudist experience, first in British Columbia, at Kaniksu Ranch in Washington State, then Shangri-La Ranch, and now at GE as a pickleball enthusiast.

Rolando is also a Glen Eden member, who comes from the Internet-focused Millennial generation who will give the board a youthful perspective on policies.

Our third new appointee came in mid-November when Director Don Giles announced his resignation.

Taking his place is Larry Gould, from Canyon States Naturists. Larry is a longtime nudist who holds a PhD in philosophy. He has published numerous articles about the criminal justice system, cultural diversity, and the National Park Service. He is currently retired as a training consultant for the National Park Service. We look forward to his future contributions on our behalf.

Special Committee Will Review AANR-West Website

By Walt Stephens, AANR Trustee

AANR-West has formed an ad hoc committee of experts to review the current website at www.aanrwest.org and to make recommendations for its future.

Our first order is the need to convert our existing documents, so they be more easily seen on a cell phone. The original design was built for laptops, reflecting the viewing market at the time. Over the past three years we have seen a major increase in visitors using cell phones, where this past month just under 50% of all visitors come from smart phones. We must keep up.

The regional president asked me to coordinate a wide range of experts to perform this review, including the site builders from some of our larger clubs, outside web designers, web masters from other AANR regions, and some younger tech-savvy end users. They have been asked to review our site, discuss alternatives, and make recommendations as soon as possible.

If other AANR-West members have an opinion and/or suggestions, they are encouraged to drop me an email or text message at stephens@silcom.com.

New WINR and Scholarship Brochures Coming in January

The start of the new year means the application period for AANR-West school Scholarships is once again open. The program was expanded last year to include not only college-bound students but also to anyone taking a vocational training class. There is no longer an age limit to applicants, but they must be AANR members or the children or grandchildren of AANR members to qualify.

Brochures with more information about the scholarship program will be delivered to all of our clubs during January. Please make them available to all members. The forms are on our web site at: www.aanrwest.org/scholarship.html

A second brochure is being created promoting our Women in Nude Recreation (WINR) program. The goal is to encourage more women seeking a positive body acceptance experience to give nude recreation a try.

These will be distributed at all the trade shows we will attend this next year. We also hope the clubs in the region will include some special events on their 2020 calendars that are focused on women's issues.

TreeSpirit Photographer Returns to So Cal for New Forest Photoshoot

By Rolf Holbach

Jack Gescheidt is a photographer whose TreeSpirit Project is famous worldwide. Jack's photos celebrate human interdependence with trees and nature in general.

For the past two years, he has used the trees on our property at Arroyo Del Sol to stage some amazing photos using local nudist volunteers who wanted to participate. One taken in 2017 ended up as the cover of the Naturist Society's 2018 summer issue of "N" Magazine.

Having exhausted all the possible tree scenarios on our property, Jack decided to hike up the nearby Gabrielino Trail to a new location. We had about 25 fellow naturists from all over Southern California meet at our house and then we set off up the trail. About a mile from our door, Jack led us down to a stream bed off the main trail and posed us to mimic the rocks in the stream (see the pic above). After the photo shoot was over, many of us headed back home for some swim time, snacks and comparing notes about another wonderful nude experience in nature!

Roadrunner Club Elects New Officers

Congratulations to Michael Meulendyk who was elected President of the Roadrunner Naturist Club in New Mexico a few weeks ago. Mike replaces Don Giles who did not seek re-election. Mike takes office in January. Mike served as president previously and he was a member of the AANR-West Board of Directors.

The other new officers are: Vice-President Treena Saavedra, Vice President, Carolyn B., Treasurer, and Audrey M., Secretary. Elected as Member Representatives are Ralston B. and Tom S., and Jack L.

The new board takes office in January 2020

Glen Eden Sun Club's Member Talent Show a Success

By Madeline Cohen, Mistress of Ceremonies

Glen Eden's "Grateful LIVE" talent showcase on November 15 brought a night of gifted community members together to entertain and engage an appreciative audience. There were 12 acts, 25 performers. The audience LOVED the showcase and reported feeling very "connected" to the goings on, as the cabaret style seating allowed performers and audience to be engaged.

Madeline aka "MC Itty Bitty" opened the show with "Oh Glen Eden" to the tune of "Oklahoma!"

The Poolside Ramblers and Flash Band featured ukulele, guitar, bass and drum players, as well as vocalists Faith, Tricia and Deborah, dedicating their sets to hits from the 60s and 70s. Hawkeye and German Mike regaled the captive crowd with growling blues in low down grooves. Playful and coquettish "Deeva Deevyne" wowed the throng with a fun tease, and her alter ego "Zulieka" did an adorable dance to "King Tut".

Poetry, parody and pointed humor followed with the stylings of Trip B, Cindy S, Mike A, and Jerry K. Song artists Ronna M and Jerry G each gave us excellent performances. Amalia, the MC's belly dancing persona, floated on wings of iridescent silk to "Love in Damascus" and Bud & Carol swept the floor with a rumba to "Mariposa Traicionera".

The show finished with an audience participation line dance to a parody of "Black Velvet" poking fun at the fellas - "Bad Haircut".

A modest fundraising effort earned $222.00 for the YWCA's Women's Shelter and inspired a memorial gift of $250 in honor of Deborah McB, a dearly loved member of Glen Eden. These donations were matched and doubled by an anonymous donor.

Another showcase is planned for March 13, 2020.

December Club Events

AANR-West Clubs Celebrate Start of Holiday Season with Ugly Sweater and Ugly Sock Festivities

One might assume that with the cooler weather, activities at many of the clubs would start to slow down. Not True!

Not well known to the textile world, but nudists love to dress up inappropriately when called upon to do so. One such tradition is the Ugly Sweater Dances held by three of our regional clubs at this time of year:

Mira Vista in Tucson held their Ugly Sweater Dance complete with DJ on November 23.

Still to come, Glen Eden holds their Ugly Sweater Dinner Dances on December 7. SCNA is doing an Ugly Sweater and Ugly Tie contest on Dec 15. Laguna del Sol does their Ugly Sweater event on December 21.

In the same spirit, Mountain Air Ranch in Colorado is hosting a contest for the “wackiest pair of yule tide socks, a wacky looking tie, or ugly holiday hat” at its annual Yuletide Nude-Tide Christmas bowling party on December 8.

Buff-a-Teers Christmas Potluck and a Grinch Gift Exchange Party Dec 14

Buff members Dennis and Sue will be hosting our annual Buff Christmas Outing at their lovely home on December 14. For the potluck, they will be providing a meat main course and ask that everyone bring a potluck side dish to share. After the luncheon, Buff members who bring a gift will be able to participate in the “Grinch Christmas Exchange”. The game is fun because each person who has brought a gift will get to select a wrapped gift, unwrap it, and then possibly lose it to someone else and must select again. To participate, bring a wrapped gift with a value of no more than $10.

Nude Bowling is Alive and Well in the Mile-High City this Winter

Colorado nudists will take to the lanes of a Denver bowling alley on Sunday, Dec. 8 at 7 pm. This has become a favorite pastime for area nudists especially during the winter where our turnout averages as high as 125 bowlers. Participants get use of a ball, shoe rental and an unlimited number of games bowled. The participants are from two Denver nudist meet-up groups along with members of Mountain Air Ranch.

This is a family-friendly event! Cost is $15.00 cash per person, children under 12 are free. Advanced RSVP required, contact Billy G. at bgrinstead@hotmail.com

This is a privately-owned bowling alley that is closed to the general public during the 3-hour activity. The owners have been supportive of our activity and welcome us back every time. MAR hosts three nude bowling events every year: in December, April and July.

Glen Eden Sun Club to Hold Tree Ornament Contest

GE is holding its annual Tree Ornament contest December 14 in the Connett Grove area of the park. The club tree will be displayed there, and residents are asked to create special ornaments to adorn it. Deadline is 4 pm that day. Winners will be announced that night at a dinner/dance. First place is $1200, second place wins $50 and third place wins $20.

The club’s Sunshine Café is selling special Holiday Gift Certificates from Nov 22 through Dec 31. These make a great holiday gift to give to other club members and friends. The certificates are available in the club’s registration office.

Region’s Landed Clubs Planning Holiday-Themed Events

The following information was obtained from the web sites of these various clubs:

- Dec 31: annual New Year’s Eve bash with the theme: “Under the Sea.”

Lupin Lodge, Los Gatos, CA:

- Dec 7: Tree Decorating Party, Gingerbread House Making Contest
- Dec 25: Christmas Brunch 9 am – 3 pm.
- Dec 31: New Year’s Eve party and dance.

Olive Dell Ranch, Colton, CA:

- Dec 21: Christmas Caroling around the park
- Dec 25: Potluck Christmas Dinner
- Dec 31: Year’s Eve Dance and Midnight Buffet
- Jan 1: Annual “Polar Bare Swim,” noon.

Sequoians, Castro Valley East of San Francisco:

Note: The park is closed to non-members during the winter.

- Dec 14 Christmas Holiday Party on Dec 14 with a gift exchange and potluck dinner.
- Dec 31: New Year’s Eve dinner & dance, $30/person.
- Jan 1: Annual Polar Bare Pool Plunge, noon.

Shangri-La Ranch, north of Phoenix, AZ

- Dec 7: Gift Exchange
- Dec 14 & 21: Dance
- Dec 25: Member potluck, clubhouse.
- The office is closed Christmas Eve and Christmas Day
- The New Year’s Eve party is open to members only.

Are You Ready for a 'Nakation®'?

By Dave G. Houser, Tribune News Service

Oct 21, 2019 Reprinted with Permission

Travel trends come and go from eco travel to medical tourism, spiritual travel to tornado tourism. One of the latest trends appears to be all about stripping things down to the basics. And I mean that literally.

The "Nakation®" aka clothing-optional tourism is becoming one of the fastest-growing segments of the travel industry. Shirking that outer layer at nude beaches and resorts and even on clothing-optional cruises has become the vacation choice du jour for hundreds of thousands of free-spirited Americans.

Travel industry experts suggest that nude recreation is fast becoming a billion dollar-a-year industry. It's certainly bringing in big bucks in Florida, where the state's tourism department reports that nude recreation made a $7.4 billion economic impact in the Sunshine State last year.

Mature adults, 45 and older, make up the majority of Nakationers®, according to Mary Jane Kolassa, media relations representative for the American Association for Nude Recreation, or AANR, the oldest and largest advocacy group for nude recreation in North America.

"The demographics are shifting, however," says Kolassa. "We're seeing more millennials, Gen Xers, African Americans and Hispanics opening up to the joy and freedom offered by the nude travel experience."

Behavioral scientists theorize that the appeal of nudism may relate in part to the need in our increasingly complex world for "tech detoxing" and going "off the grid" as remedies for the frenetic modern lifestyle. Ditching the duds, they reason, be one more way to simplify the chaos. Egalitarianism comes into play as well: without the trappings of clothing, it's hard to stereotype someone as "blue collar" or "white collar" when there are no collars.

For those uninitiated to the rites of undressing in public, here's some soothing encouragement from Gigi Engle, a certified sex coach and educator at California's Alexander Institute. "Don't let yourself feel pressured on an adult lifestyle holiday. You might feel uncomfortable at first," Engle says, "but once you see so many people of all ages, shapes and sizes just living their lives in the nude, it becomes normalized very quickly."

The various kinds of Nakations® advocated and promoted by AANR at the organization's nearly 200 member clubs across the country take their cue from naturism the wholesome, lighthearted joy of nudity without the sexual debauchery that one might envision.

"Simply put," says Kolassa, "our mission is to advocate nudity and nude recreation in appropriate settings while educating and informing society of their value and enjoyment."

That's not to say there aren't plenty of options for those wanting to kick it up a notch. Resorts catering to the sexually adventurous such as Hedonism II in Jamaica; Desire Resort & Spa in Cancun; Rooftop Resort in Hollywood, Fla.; and Live Oak Resort in Washington, Texas, are popular bucket-list spots for swingers.

Nakations® needn't be confined to resorts. Nude cruises are becoming a really big thing. There are several travel agencies, such as Castaways Travel and Bare Necessities, that charter entire vessels for clothing-optional cruises. Castaways co-owner Donna Daniels estimates that her company will book about 7,500 passengers this year on three chartered voyages operated by Celebrity and Royal Caribbean Cruises.

"The cruise lines set the itineraries, of course," says Daniels, "but we organize special activities for our clients, including costume nights, body painting and adult comedians."

Government Affairs

Colorado Town Awards $50 K to Topfree Woman

Efrosini "Effie" Krokos, 20, has been paid $50,000 and had all charges dropped in the city of Loveland, Colorado after she was cited for playing Frisbee topless in her front yard on Sept. 26, reports KDVR-TV in Denver.

City officials were quoted saying they thought they could not win after the recent 10th Circuit Court of Appeals ruling [See our November AANR-West newsletter – Editor].

Krokos says her actions weren't calculated. "I didn't do this for the money," she explains. "I did it just because I thought I was equal to a guy."

Loveland has an ordinance prohibiting the exposure of breasts in public, but police will suspend enforcement until city council can review it, KDVR reports.

The $50,000 settlement is the first damage claim paid to a woman wrongfully charged for being topless in the US.

A History of Nudism and Government Censorship, Part 1: 1873-1980

By Richard Hirst, Director, Western Nudist Library

In our modern age, it's easy to talk with other people about nudism, or share photos of nudist activities.

- Send an email.
- Send a text.
- Make a FaceTime call.

Granted, there are relevant ethical and privacy issues (a subject for another article at another time) but for consenting adults wishing to communicate about nudism, today's technology makes it easy.

This was not always the case, of course. As we work with the Western Nudist Research Library collection, we are continually reminded about the risks that were presented in past years when someone wanted to write about nudism or publish and circulate a magazine with stories and nude photos for other people to see.

In 1873, the Comstock Act made it illegal to mail any publication that was "obscene," "lewd" or "lascivious." This definition included anything portraying nudity, as well as any materials that discussed sex, sex education or birth control. Violators of the Comstock Act were guilty of a felony offense. The Comstock Act had a tremendous influence on American social mores.

In 1957, the U.S. Supreme Court decision in Roth v United States upheld the U.S. Code (18, § 1461) further restricted free expression and publication in America, making the following actions illegal:

Every obscene, lewd, lascivious, indecent, filthy or vile article, matter, thing, device, or substance... which is advertised or described in a manner calculated to lead another to... any indecent or immoral purpose... Every paper, writing, advertisement, or representation that any article or thing may be used for... any indecent or immoral purpose... Is declared to be a non-mailable matter and shall not be conveyed in the mails or delivered from any post office or by any letter carrier.

The U.S. Code called for violators to be fined and imprisoned for up to ten years.

In 1973, the "Miller test" for obscenity was established by the U.S. Supreme Court. In the case of Miller v California, the court ruled that any publication that lacks "serious literary, artistic, political, or scientific value" and "taken as a whole, appeals to prurient interests" is obscene, and thus not protected by the First Amendment.

Looking through the different nudist magazines produced in the early years of the 20th century, it's interesting to see how different publications worked to avoid legal punishment. Some magazines did not show naked people on their front covers. Others airbrushed front cover images to hide offending body parts. Other magazines chose to use opaque envelopes, stickers or labels to hide content from censors.

Shown to the left are two nudist magazine covers from the 1960s, pulled from the Western Nudist Research Library collection.

Magazines in this time period were filled with images of slim, attractive (mostly white) young women. There were far fewer images of men, and when men appeared, they were usually posed to avoid showing anything between their legs. Full frontal male nudity did not appear very much in nudist magazines until the 1970s.

Your Western Nudist Research Library's Goal is to Have a Searchable Database of All Published Documents

One of the goals the Western Nudist Research Library and its partner institutions are working toward is a fully searchable database. In other words, a user would be able to access the shared database through any of the five libraries and do a search not only to locate specific documents or publications by title, but to find documents by key words or names shown within them. It will take quite some time to fully implement this feature.

Most of the items in our electronic collection are saved as PDF files. This format works best because PDFs can be viewed on a variety of computers with different settings and software. PDFs are easily created and shared.

However, in order to make a PDF "searchable" it needs to have the Optical Character Recognition (OCR) feature activated. OCR places a layer of text on top of the image of the document to create a path for the computer to then search for words contained in the document.

OCR was not activated when many of the early nudist documents and publications were scanned and saved into the different library collections. In each of the five libraries, we're now making sure that new scanned materials include OCR, and we're adding OCR to PDF files of earlier materials as time allows.

Of course, just having OCR in place doesn't necessarily mean that searches will run easily or correctly. So, volunteers are also going back through the collections to test and make sure an OCR-enabled search will work as it is supposed to, to deliver the relevant documents identified in the search.

All of this is not a very exciting process, unless you're someone who's enthralled by computer digitization and coding. But it's all part of what we are doing to make sure the history of nudism in North America and around the world is documented for people today, and generations to come.

There's Always Something Happening Around the Region!

Below is a list of major club activities for the next several weeks from around the region. This is only a partial list based upon what clubs have submitted to us.
